Abstract

Autism is a complex developmental disability that typically appears during the first three years of life, and affects a person's ability to communicate and interact with others. Autism is defined by a certain set of behaviors and is a 'spectrum disorder' that affects individuals differently and to varying degrees.

Autism Spectrum Disorder is a multi-layered complex set of symptoms that manifest differently, and are treated differently from person to person , and each autistic child responds to teaching methods differently. This creates a need to know several and different teaching methods,

This paper aims to show the several methods of educating toddlers and children with autism spectrum disorders, as a way to determining the effective methods to teach children with autism.
